

Message from the Headteacher

Thank you so much to all members of the All Saints' community – staff, pupils, parents, carers, governors - who have supported us and sent their good wishes over the past couple of days. Although I cannot reveal the whole content of the report yet, I can assure you that HM Inspectors were impressed with what they saw. We will continue to work together to transform our school and strive to achieve excellence in everything we do. Please look out for the Ofsted report which will be available to read online in about 2 weeks' time.

Duke of Edinburgh news from Mrs Kellett

My Duke of Edinburgh assessment weekend was completed on 4/5th March. It was very wet, very muddy and I had to walk 26 miles. My legs hurt and at some points there were steps as tall as me to climb but I loved every minute.

I have now completed all my qualifications to become D of E assessor, first aider and now leader. I can't wait to take our 30 year 9s out on their expeditions!!!

Congratulations also to Mrs Millington and Miss Fox on completing their DoE Expedition Skills course to become our fantastic volunteers, knowledgeable on all things map related! They also had lots of mud to contend with and I know they will be amazing volunteers on our Duke of Edinburgh expeditions in May.

Don't Judge a Book by its Cover!

As part of our World Book Day celebrations, 4 Year 7 pupils visited two of our feeder primary schools to share their love of reading with year 5 children. Sarah Kelly, Chloe Vejki, Alicia Buthfer and Lily Cullenaine from All Saints took part in The Reading Game along with Year 5 pupils from St Peter's and St Raphael's. The activity allows children to explore different genres and discover how and why we choose the books we do.

"It was really interesting to see which books the Year 5s would enjoy," said Sarah. "I wasn't expecting the boys to enjoy romance, but they did!"

The Year 5 pupils had a wonderfully positive and open-minded approach to the activity and our own Year 7 pupils were fantastic ambassadors and reading role models.

Sainsbury's Vouchers

School is currently collecting Sainsbury's Active Kids 2017 vouchers. If you have any vouchers, please send them to the pastoral office, thanks!

Science Club

Science Club resumes next Thursday 16 March in Room 39. See Mr Hayward for details.

Accelerated Readers of the Week

Madoc Richardson and Harry Wilshaw, Year 7, have set up their own reading club in the library at break time. They are currently reading Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone. It is wonderful to see them taking charge of their own learning and having such a positive attitude to reading.

Gardening Club

Spring is definitely in the air and the wild garden outside the library is beginning to take shape. Birds are flocking to the many feeders we have provided, bulbs are appearing and several seedlings are ready to be planted out. All the hard work from our volunteer, Alex and the pupils is paying off. Pupils are welcome to come and help out in the garden at break or lunch time every Friday.

Linguists of the Week

Sophie Lees' enthusiasm for French never falters and she always gives 100% in our lessons.

Kimberley Wood's attitude to learning is outstanding and she always does her very best! Well done, Kimberley and Sophie, keep up the brilliant work!
